this is the third and final novel of the Carlisle trilogy titled the Carlisle diamond warwick lachlan the eighteenth marquis of Cumbria and Galloway married and brought his bride lady Marguerite Balfour home to Kilmorgan Castle against the wishes of her family Marguerite Balfour was not only beautiful and petite but possessed a will of steel when she chose Warwick over objections Nicola Waltham daughter of a Texas cattle rancher grew into a stunning red headed beauty she and her parents were ignored totally by her mothers de la Sale family the murder of Nicolas parents and the loss of all she owned was devastating to survive she became singer dancer in the saloons of the USA Nicola married James Lachlan son of Warwick in Carlisle Cathedral after a tempestuous relationship to become one of the finest ladies of England James and Nicolas daughter Countess Danielle Lachlan was kidnapped as she drove to her wedding to Regan Meagher in Dublin by French criminals and well paid members of the then IRA Andrew Lachlan son of James Lachlan saved the life of a French born seductress Chantelle de Leon she and her mother separated from her fathers family used their charms to live off what they could extract from the wealthy men of Europe Andrew knew nothing of Chantelles life when she deserted him his heart was broken she became a spy for the British during the Great War at the wars end because she had consorted with Germans she was considered to be a traitor to France and this meant death if she was found she sought out Andrew the only man she had ever truly loved even though she knew he would likely reject her Andrew had two thoughts choke her or take her to bed for he still loved her Nicola gun in hand rescued her daughter with the help of a man who had infiltrated the small group of IRA activists Chantelle married Andrew and like the two ladies before her became the Marchioness of Cumbria and Galloway universities are refocusing on pedagogy how we teach and learn what we know and they have placed that work in new centers for teaching and learning CTL in this book the author maps the landscape of 1 200 US centers and programs including medical and professional school programs through another approach coding of their websites this data allows insight into CTL strategy and operations and it offers a picture of a fuller near population of centers rather than a small sample of center directors co published with the council on undergraduate research undergraduate research has long been recognized as a high impact practice hip but has unfortunately been offered only to juniors and seniors and to very few of them often in summer programs this book shows how to engage students in authentic research experiences built into the design of courses in the first two years thus making the experience available to a much greater number of students research that is embedded in a course especially general education courses addresses the issue of how to expand undergraduate research to all students research has shown that students who have early experiences in undergraduate research are more likely to pursue further research prior to and after graduation this is also an issue of social justice because it makes the benefits of undergraduate research available to students who must work during the academic year and in the summer it is widely accepted that the skills developed through undergraduate research help prepare students for their future careers the book addresses all aspects of the topic including what are appropriate expectations for research in the first two years how to design appropriate course based research for first and second year students how to mentor a class rather than individual students how students can disseminate the results of their research possible citizen science projects appropriate for the first and second years providing additional resources available to support course based research in the first two yearsdesigned for faculty at four year and two year colleges and including examples from the sciences the social sciences and the humanities the strategies and methods described can be adapted to disciplines not specifically mentioned in the book many faculty are hesitant to engage first and second year students in undergraduate research because they worry students don t know enough to conduct authentic research in their discipline because they worry about the time it will take to develop activities for these students and because they wonder how they can mentor a whole class of students doing research the authors have successfully dealt with these issues and provide examples of how it s done
